Math

This week we will begin a unit about money. We will begin this week by talking about all of the coins and counting with the dime, nickel, and penny. Thank you to those of you that have sent in bags of real money. I like to use real coins when counting money because it makes it much easier for the kids. We will also continue working on our fast facts tests. This will continue until the end of the year.

Language Arts

This week we will be reading a variety of Henry and Mudge books. These books are great books to read as an introduction to chapter books. We will use them to talk about sequencing events, responding to literature, comprehension, making predictions, and story elements. We will also talk about quotation marks.
