3A's WTR: Today, the class had an awesome time acting out different fables. They did a super job learning their lines and making props. 😊 After break, we will be reading different poems for National Poetry Monty.

Spelling: Lesson 25-No words this week

Grammar/Writing: We are completing our 2nd expository essay about the "Three Types of Rocks".

Math: We have finished elapsed time. After the break, we will complete the measurement chapter by learning about meters, liters, and grams (Luckily, we talked about this in science when we were measuring matter.)

Science: "Passport Projects" went home last week, and they are due this Thursday, March 21st. We will do a project pass so we can see all different landforms in the world. The project will be recorded as a 4th quarter grade.

Social Studies: Lesson 3-Different perspectives during the war. We will have an open book/notes test on Thursday. Then, we will finish the chapter before Spring Break and start learning about the Civil War when we return.

*A big shout out to the 3A parents who volunteered to chaperone on our field trip and to help at our Spring Fling booth. Thank you so very much for your help & support! 😊
